NOTES FROM CITY HALL

VITAL STATISTICS AND OTHER MATTERS OF INTEREST TO CITIZENS.

The municipal drinking fountains for which the city voted to furnish ice last Thursday are located at the City Hall and on Brand Boulevard, opposite the Pacific Electric station. The cold water will be very welcome to pedestrians particularly if the mercury remains at its present height.

Not all residents may understand the order passed at the last Council Meeting for the siren on the Fire Station at Brand and Los Feliz Road to be blown daily at noon for half a minute. It was made at the request of citizens as a summons to prayer for our soldiers in the fighting zones.

The continued growth of Glendale is indicated by the fact that the figures for births and deaths keep constantly increasing, as shown by the vital statistics kept by City Clerk Sherer. There were eighteen births in July and 22 deaths. The death list included ten persons more than sixty years of age, and at least one third of the number came here from elsewhere and died at local hospitals.

The fact that a week ago City Trustees voted to abandon proceedings for the improvement of Broadway should be of interest to many people. This does not mean that the intention to improve has been given up but simply that the board found the cost of the improvement would be 25 per cent. higher than the estimates originally made by the City Engineer owing to the increased cost of labor and material. To meet the conditions the motion to abandon was passed and new proceedings will be started for a less expensive type of improvement. It will not begin until the latter part of next winter.

LOOKING FOR NEW LOCATION

Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Norton have had a very pleasant experience entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Merrill and son. They have come from Brighton, Colorado, where Mr. Merrill has been operating a printing plant and publishing the local paper. He has disposed of that business and is looking for a new location in Southern California. He is the son of Bishop Stephen Merrill, well known in Methodist circles, and he has a son at Camp Kearny. He and Mrs. Merrill were married by Rev. Norton twenty-four years ago in Mediapolis, Iowa, where Comrade Norton was then preaching.

NEWS FROM THE ELLIS FAMILY

Mrs. C. H. Ravenscroft of 1017 W. Broadway, has received the following night letter which will be of interest to the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ellis:

Seattle, Wash., July 31.

Reached Seattle Wednesday night. All well and no delays. Charles is excited about bay and boats which he can see from hotel window. He is a fine traveller. Much love. Edith.

COLLIDED WITH TREE

INTOXICATED DRIVER INJURED IN THE EARLY HOURS OF THE MORNING

S. Fugitani with two small children and a Japanese friend was driving north on Central avenue with a Ford roadster Saturday morning at 12.45 o'clock when his car collided with the large tree in the street near Doran. There is a curbing built around the tree so the running gear of the car mounted this cement wall which is wedge shaped at the south end and the machine came to a sudden stop causing the wind shield to break, the particles of glass flying in all directions. One of the occupants of the car was badly hurt about the head. A passing car removed him to be cared for. Alfred F. Priest who was passing in his touring car just as the accident happened drove to Brand and Broadway and secured the services of a city marshal. Mr. Priest conveyed the Jap, the marshal and the two children to the fire house where the Jap was lodged in jail on a charge of being intoxicated and the children were taken to their home.

Although the tree stands in the middle of the street it is marked with a red light and very likely if the driver of the auto had not been intoxicated the accident would not have happened.

SUGGESTED ECONOMIES

TAXPAYERS ASSOCIATION OF CALIFORNIA SUGGESTS STATE REORGANIZATION

Statistics and comparative tables relative to the cost of government in California for the past sixteen years, have been prepared and presented in report form to tax payers of the state by the Taxpayers Association of California, with a view to a campaign for greater economy in administration and expenditures. In 1902 the population of the state was 1,673,343 and the expenditures $8,611,719 of which only a small fraction was for permanent improvements. The total per capita cost that year was $5.146. In 1905 there was a slight increase, but since 1909 there has ben a marked advance which reached its maximum in 1915 when population had increased to 2,848,275, and expenses and outlays to $33,719,461. Of that large amount $11,012,387.99 was for permanent improvements, leaving $22,707,073.-75 for expense of administration, the total cost per capita being $11.838. In 1916 there was a decline in both administration expense and permanent improvements and the per capita tax fell to $10.48. In 1917 the expense of government exceeded the previous maximum and cost the tax payers $23,266,858, but a marked shrinkage in permanent improvements brought the per capita total down to $9.48. The cost of the legislative branch reached its maximum in 1913 and has declined but little since that time. The executive branch climbed to the maximum in 1917. In the Judiciary the increase is much less marked. The cost of protecting persons and property has mounted rapidly since 1913. In 1912 it was $524.711, whereas in 1917 it was $1,241,379, the population during the same period having increased from 2,577,137 to 3,029,032. In other words with an increased population of something over 17 per cent., the expense has more than doubled. Since 1912 expenditures for the conservation of health and sanitation have jumped from $61,105 in that year to $228,461 in 1917.

The report gives a list of 126 offices, boards, bureaus and commissions under the state government in 1917 and in a suggestion for a reorganization of the State Government in the interest of economy, makes the following statement:

Even a casual review of the list of officers, boards, bureaus and commissions, made in the light of their duties as here stated, will serve to convince the observant reader that numerous duplications and over-lappings of function exist and that administrative centralization is sadly lacking. The presence of great numbers of independent boards, bureaus, commissions and officers indicates an undue overhead expense; but where it is shown that two or more bodies perform all or parts of functions that could be performed by one, the absence of efficient organization and the certainty of needlessly high expense become still more readily apparent.

A general reorganization of the state government, involving the establisrment of a few centralized departments, should be undertaken by the 1919 legislature. These departments should of course be divisionally organized. Excepting those

EXPENSES OF ESCORTS FOR FUNERALS

Under existing law and the custom of the service there is no authority for the expenditure of Government funds for expenses of military escorts, firing parties, buglers, and pallbearers, detailed from Army posts or camps for funerals of enlistde men of National Guard and National Army who have died in the service and whose bodies have been sent home for interment, unless in a specific instance directed by the Secretary of War; but Government transportation may be used far this purpose whenever it is practicable to do so.

GERMAN DEFENSE DISINTEGRATING

AMERICAN TROOPS REACH CHAMERY WHERE QUENTIN ROOSEVELT FELL AND SEARCH FOR HIS GRAVE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

The latest battle front reports this afternoon indicate that the German defense is disintegrating along the entire Soissons-Rheims front.

These dispatches show that the allies were advancing throughout the day.

Mareuil, northwest of Cohan, fell this afternoon.

The French after taking Soissons advanced three miles along the Aisne, capturing Venizel and apparently establishing a bridge head on the north bank of the river.

Apparently the Germans have decided to retire to the Aisne and possibly to the Chemin-des-Dames.

French cavalry has reached Joucery, five and a half miles from Fismes, and the Fall of Fismes is expected hourly.

This afternoon the Germans are retreating rapidly beyond Soissons toward the Chemin-des-Dames.

Late this afternoon the allies occupied Dormans wood.

At noon today the allied advance south of the Vesle had reached the region of Serches, Couvrelles and Cersueil.

Fismes is within range of the American guns and the Americans have occupied Chamery, where Quentin Roosevelt fell. This afternoon they are searching for Roosevelt's grave.

ALLIES ADVANCE OVER ENTIRE FRONT

GERMAN RETIREMENT GAINING MOMENTUM ALONG THE LINE FROM SOISSONS TO RHEIMS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, August 3.—At 10:45 this morning the German retreat was gaining momentum and the allies were advancing over the entire forty-five mile front between Soissons and Rheims.

The Americans were advancing toward the Aisne and were within six miles of Fismes. They have captured several towns and villages, the most important being Cohan.

West of Rheims the advancing allied units reached the Vesle river at several points. West of Soissons the Germans have started to retreat along the Lanoy road.

French patrols have reached the Aisne near Venizel.

FRENCH SURPRISE ENEMY

ATTACK ON SOISSONS LAST NIGHT WAS APPARENTLY UNEXPECTED BY THE GERMANS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, August 3.—The capture of Soissons by the French last night was evidently a complete surprise to the Germans, as they failed to set any fires or destroy supplies in the city.

Elsewhere they are pillaging and burning entire towns.

General March said there are now eight American divisions engaged in the great offensive.

General March also revealed that it was the Rainbow division that whipped the famous Prussian guards a week ago.

A NEW CALL

TWO MEN ARE WANTED TO TAKE INSTRUCTION IN MECHANICS AT LOGAN, UTAH

The local exemption board is just in receipt of another call for two men to be entrained for Logan, Utah. They must be men who have had four years of high school and who have some aptitude for mechanical work. They are to report to the commanding officer, Agricultural college, Utah on August 15 for instiuction as auto mechanics and chauffeurs, blacksmiths, carpenters, concrete workers, gas engine men, machinists and radio operators. Only white men and men qualified for general military service are to be inducted under this call.

Men selected under this service will receive a course of training at government expense fitting them to serve in army positions both at the front and behind the lines and the instruction will be of great personal value in working their way ahead both in army and civil life. The men will be assigned during the course to that kind of mechanical training for which the greatest need exists. At the end of the course they will be assigned to the various branches of the service in accordance with the needs of the army. They are to receive no assurance of assignment to any particular branch of service. It is considered an exceptional opportunity for energetis, ambitious men.

Two men have been selected for this call, viz:

Charles U. Wells of 1504 West Broadway, Glendale who was named as one of the alternates on the call for next Tuesday to go to Camp Fremont, but will probably not be needed there.

John Otto Younce, R. F. D. 11, Los Angeles has been named as the other man. He is one of the new registrants, is unmarried and can only be inducted under this call if he chooses to go. He is a graduate of Manual Arts high school and has been a clerk for the Southern Pacific railroad for four years and has also had experience as a chauffeur and auto mechanic.

RETURNS FROM CONVENTION

Miss Pearl Keller, of 123 Brand Boulevard, who went to San Francisco a week ago Monday, to attend a convention of dancing teachers, has returned refreshed by her trip and with lots of new ideas for the coming year's work.

The convention was attended by representatives from all parts of the United States and Canada and was highly successful. The new ball room dance adopted for 1918 is called "The Pershing Trot" and will be very popular, in Mrs. Keller's opinion. Mrs. Keller is very glad to get home, although she feels the change from the cool climate of the Bay cities. After the convention adjourned she visited Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Thompson, who have a very beautiful home in San Anselmo. She does not expect to open her school for regular work until October, and contemplates establishing it at some point nearer the business center of Glendale proper.

REUNION OF SORORITY SISTERS

Misses Alice and Blanche Eastwood of Oxnard, who are spending the summer vacation in Los Angeles, entertained at their apartment Wednesday with a luncheon in honor of Miss Marjory Imler of Glendale and Miss Ruth McGarry of Berkeley, who has been Miss Imler's house guest for two weeks. On Thursday Miss Imler and Miss McGarry were guests of Miss True Mattoon of Huntington Park on an automobile tour of the beach cities, stopping in Venice for lunch. Other guests on this delightful trip were Miss Ruth Rhodes of Pasadena and Miss Alice Eastwood of Oxnard. All are Sigma Kappa girls so the reunion was a very happy one.

PAY PLEDGES HERE

Some Glendale parties who made pledges to the late Red Cross War Fund Drive, have sent their checks to Washington, D. C. to the office of Mr. McAdoo. These checks have been returned to the Headquarters of the Glendale Chapter for credit on the pledges. The pledges made in Glendale at that drive are all in the office of the Headquarters here, and to receive proper credit the money must be paid here. The sending of these small amounts to Washington only makes extra work for the Red Cross and delay in giving due credit.

O. SPENCER,
Acting Vice-Chairman, Glendale Chapter, A. R. C.

PRIZES AWARDED

WINNERS ARE SELECTED IN THE FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN ADVERTISING CONTEST

The committee on awards for the Advertising Contest for advertisements from Southern California to be used in the Fourth Liberty Loan Drive met in Los Angeles Thursday morning, August 1st, and selected the winners.

This contest was announced a short time ago, two sets of prizes being offered. The Southern California State Committee awarded five prizes—$35.00, $25.00 and $15.00 and two Honorable Mentions. These winners were then to be entered by the Southern California Publicity Committee in the sweepstake offered by the General Publicity Committee in San Francisco for all states in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District. The sweepstake prizes offered are $50.00, $30.00 and $20.00 with two Honorable Mentions.

Over fifty pieces of copy were submitted to the Publicity Department in Los Angeles. The State Committee awarded the first prize to Dan Miner of the Miner Advertising Agency of Los Angeles. His advertisement was strikingly strong showing a Sammie going Over the Top, with the words in bold display "Don't Desert Him Now. A Liberty Bond His passport to Berlin."

Second award was made to H. W. L. Gardiner of the Gardiner Advertising Agency of Los Angeles, and third prize to F. J. Wadley, Jr., of the W. P. Jeffries Company of that city. Two Honorable Mentions were awarded to W. H. Thorndike of Los Angeles and Charles W. Clay of Pasadena.

The Committee on Awards was composed of Henry S. McKee, Chairman Liberty Loan Committee; R. H. Moulton, Campaign Manager Liberty Loan Committee; Harry S. Carroll, Pres. Advertising Club of Los Angeles: W. A. Holt, Los Angeles; E. R. Perry, Los Angeles; Harold Janss, Director of Publicity, So. Cal. Liberty Loan Committee.

LOST IN THE DESERT

Miss Cora Hickman returned the first of this week from a business and pleasure trip to the Imperial valley where she was the guest of the Englehart family. Miss Hickman says the 220 mile trip from Brawley to Los Angeles was made in less than ten hours and she relates an interesting incident of the journey. They left the ranch about 4 a. m. and when crossing the desert before daylight a man clad only in his underwear appeared suddenly just in front of the machine. He was half demented from thirst, having wandered over the desert for more than twelve hours without water. He had become lost and left his wife and children in the machine on the San Felipe trail. He was given some grapes to quench his thirst and later a little water and taken to a habitation where he was cared for. Miss Hickman says our present warm spell is zero weather compared to the temperature in the valley and on the desert.

ADVENTIST MEETING

PASS RESOLUTIONS EXPRESSING LOYALTY TO PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

Hearty support of the government in every way was voiced by the Seventh-day Adventists of the Southern California Conference at Wednesday's session of their biennial conference, assembled at the campground, at West Washington street and Orchard Avenue. The resolution, passed unanimously by the delegates, was in harmony with similar action taken by the representatives of all the union conferences of the denomination in the United States, assembled at their Mid-summer Council, at Takoma Park, Washington, D. C., July 5 to 15 of this year. The action taken yesterday is as follows:

"Whereas, representatives from all the union conferences of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination in the United States, meeting together in a Midsummer Council in Takoma Park, Washington, D. C., July 9 to 15, 1918, adopted the following resolutions of loyalty and service:

"'1. We, as citizens of the United States, and as representatives of the Seventh-day Adventist churches and conferences in America, assembled in Midsummer Council, July, 1918, believing that civil government is ordained of God, and believing in the principles of justice and liberty for which this Government has ever stood, place on record anew a declaration of loyalty to our country, to

THE DROPPED STITCH

We commend most heartily the hands that knit for the Red Cross, that purchase Liberty Bonds, that sell and purchase War Savings Stamps, but more than all, these same hands, three times a day, handle all food stuffs consumed and should therefore be praised for conservation more than any or all of the other activities, says Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, Director of Food Conservation. To repeat the message sent out from Washington:

"Pyschology provides a very interesting explanation of the situation with which American women, as a unit, have knitted since the war began. Knitting, it is pointed out, is definite, positive action. And this is just what the average American craves in connection with the great conflict—to translate patriotism into action. One thing soon developed: all knitting must conform to certain officially prescribed patterns, and it must all be correctly done in order to be of any use at all.

"Needful as the knitting is, there is one thing that is still more necessary, that must invade the country even more thoroughly than knitting, and be translated into energetic and continuous action. This needful thing is food conservation.

"There is an unexpected resemblance between food conservation and knitting. In the first place, food conservation is just as positive as knitting, even though it seems to include the negative effort of merely not doing certain unpatriotic things with foods. But the final result proves it to be every whit positive, vital action. A machine can knit, but it cannot conserve food; a soldier can fight without a sweater, but he cannot fight without food.

In the second place, food conservation, to be of use, must be done according to the official pattern laid down by those whose business it is to know the necessities of the situation. If the pattern changes as national necessity changes, then we must change too, and be ready to adapt our work immediately to the new requirements.

"In knitting, one knows that to drop a single stitch will ruin a whole piece of work, if the mistake is left uncorrected. Now all the families of the United States, we might say, are weaving the food supply of the world. The family that does not do its share is the dropped stitch that works havoc in the great garment of protection whereby we are seeking to cover the world's need."

LLEWELLYN PLANT GETS BIG GOVERNMENT ORDER

The Llewellyn Iron Works of Los Angeles, has been awarded a contract by the Emergency Fleet Corporation for more than $4,000,000 worth of marine engines. These engines are of the same type as those which the Llewellyn plant has been making for the government. These comprise 1400 h. p. engines for wooden ships and 2800 h. p. engines for steel ships of 8800 tons dead weight capacity. The Llewellyn plant will be able to handle this new order, in addition to completing contracts on hand, without any material increase in its plant or force of employes.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Baker have just moved from 1439 West Colorado St. to 1411 West Colorado. They have had great pleasure in the entertainiment of Mrs. Baker's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Harrison, who motored down from San Francisco about three weeks ago and have since been guests in the Baker home. During their stay they toured Southern California pretty thoroughly, but always returned to Glendale with satisfaction, declaring it to be the most attractive town seen on their travels. Mr. Harrison owns a lemon ranch down here, but is wedded to his business in the Bay City and is not likely to make a change at present. He and Mrs. Harrison have returned to San Francisco.

Mrs. W. P. Flores has returned from Los Angeles, where she has been visiting friends.

McAdoo

Is regarded by the best business men of the country as, probably, the ablest financier the U. S. has ever produced. Among his other splendid achievements, the Insurance measure for the protection of soldiers and sailors is one of the greatest. The volumn of this insurance now aggregates over 25 BILLIONS of dollars, on the lives of 3 million men! The average size of each policy is $8700, or about $50 a month. . .Read that again and think about it.

....No country ever took such care of its defenders as our beloved land is doinig in this. Britain's soldiers are insured for an average of 19 pounds, or about $95 apiece.

Would that our men who stay at home had as much protection as the boys in war. A very small proportion of men carry $8700 of real insurance. Isn't $50 a month for your family little enough? Better talk to me about more?

which deal largely with important matters of policy, the departments should be single-headed. Responsibility for executive and administrative action would thus become fixed and localized. The functions now or hereafter to be performed by the state should be transferred to the proper departments.

Inasmuch as a very large number of the governmental units here considered exist by statute, the next legislature could go far toward effecting the reorganization sugested.

Based upon the surveys alluded to in the foregoing text, Tax Payers' Association of California will in due course present, for discussion and consideration, detailed proposals for the changes which, in its opinion, should be made in 1919 through legislative action. These proposals will include what appears to the Association to constitute a proper distribution of functions.

For the present, suffice it to say that all kindred and closely related functions should be classified and assembled upon a departmental basis. Attention is invited to the following tentative outline of reorganization:

Department of Finance.—To have control over all financial policies and functions.

Department of Agriculture—To have control over all agricultural agencies.

Department of Natural Resources—to have control over all agencies employed in the conservation and development of natural resources.

Department of Health—To have control over all health agencies.

Department of Charities, Hospitals and Corrections—To have control over all institutions and agencies in this classification.

Department of Education—Duties suggested by title.

Department of Commerce—To control all agencies dealing with the regulation of business, public utilities, etc.

Department of Social Welfare—To control all agencies dealing with social economics and functions allied thereto.

Department of Public Works and Parks—To control all engineering work, construction, parks, reservations, monuments, etc.

Department of Labor—To deal with all agencies related to labor.

The Association does not intend the above as final proposals, but believes a reorganization along departmental lines should and would work out most satisfactorily if planned with ten—or not to exceed twelve—departments similar in character to those set forth.

its Government, and to the President assuring the Government that it has our hearty support and sympathy in this time of crisis.

"'2. While ever in our history we have been of noncombatant principles, by religious conviction, we believe equally, by the same religious conviction, that we should render to our Government the lines of noncombatant service as defined by the President in his declaration of March 20, 1918.

"'3. We recognize in the calls of our Government for its citizens to Red Cross and similar activities, the opportunity to give heed to the New Testament injunction to render honor and tribute to the civil authority, as well as opportunity to show loyalty to our country's common cause according to our financial ability.

"'4. We urge upon all our people hearty and conscientious support of the Government's program of conservation, not only in the matter of food production and saving, but in the exercise of economy and the spirit of sacrifice in harmony with the requirements of this time of war and scarcity.

"'5. We place on record our appreciation of the evident pains taken by camp authorities to have regard for the religious convictions of our young men in the matter of observing the seventh day as the Sabbath, and we council every member of our churches called by the draft to render faithful obedience and loyal service in camp or field, recognizing the fact that the inconvenience caused those in authority by our religious practice in this matter of the Sabbath, makes it incumbent upon us to be the more conscientious and forward in performing work and duties assigned,' therefore

"Resolved that we, the delegates and members of the Southern California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, assembled in Los Angeles in biennial session, do hereby record our hearty approval of the resolutions adopted, express anew our loyalty to the principles contained therein, and assure our Government and our President of our hearty support in this time of crisis."

Decision was reached yesterday by the delegation, to return to the plan of former years of holding the conference business sessions each year instead of biennially. It was also decided to elect the departmental secretaries of the conference by vote of the delegates, instead of leaving their appointment to the conference committee.

Regret at the recent death of Pastor George I. Butler, who died at Healdsburg, Cal., last Thursday afternoon, and sympathy to the bereaved was expressed in an appropriate resolution which passed the convention yesterday afternoon. A resolution of condolence upon the death of pastor Charles F. Marvin, of Glendale, also was passed.

Gratitude to God for the 617 accessions to the churches of this local conference in the last two and a half years, for "the preservation of life and the good degree of health which has been granted to labarers throughout the field, and in the encouraging success which has attended the various lines of conference activity," was voiced by the delegation Wednesday.

Committees on nomination, credentials and licenses and plans and resolutions were named as follows:

Nominations: C. E. Kimlin, of Glendale; A. G. Daniells, J. W. Christian, Glendale; M. V. Hofgarten, Long Beach; J. L. Jones, S. W. Beasley, S. P. Smith, W. R. Hall, Dr. C. A. Burrows, Glendale;

Credentials and licenses: J. W. Christian, C. A. Snyder, G. W. Reaser, V. H. Lucas, M. M. Hare.

Plans and resolutions: W. M. Adams, H. G. Lucas, E. S. Knox, Miss J. L. Ireland, S. A. Oberg, Mrs. M. M. Hare, P. L. Hack, C. L. Cyphers, C. C. Marlan, Dr. P. T. Magan, Frank A. Coffin, Lon Somers, D. H. Warren, Dr. L. J. Otis, L. M. Hodge

Your country calls to you for money-service---for the utmost limit of support you can give in the great war task.

Out of your routine earnings, out of your reserve resources of cash, you have already made the largest possible investment in the war securities. But---you are an American of the sort who does not stop at the convenient stopping stations. You want to do more than you can "afford" to do---and that is what you must do if you are to do your duty, to perform your share of the big task.

What have you in the way of chattels that you could sell for cash---for cash with which to buy more bonds? Have you a used car for which you have no extreme need? Do you own furniture that is not of present use? Do you have office fixtures and appliances which are not in actual use?

Sell your used---but still useful---articles. Advertise them for sale, at attractive prices, in the classified advertising columns. Somebody has immediate need of them, and will pay you for them. You may then serve your country a little more fully---strengthen, a little more, the striking power of the nation, and bring a little nearer the day of victorious peace.
